ARMY PRIEST

Spends Two Prolific and Pleasant Days and Is Honored In Louisville.

Addresses College and High School Boys and Two Big Public Meetings.

Makes Convincing and Eloquent Plea For Hundred Per Cent Americanization.

PENDENNIS CLUB RECEPTION.

Rev. Father Francis A. Kelly, famed as the "Fighting Chaplain" of the Twenty-seventh division, now Chaplain General of the U. S. A., National Chaplain of the American Legion and Special National Field Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, spent two busy days in Louisville this week under the auspices of the St. Xavier Alumni and the American Legion. Father Kelly addressed the Kiwanis Club, the Boys' High School, the First Division at Camp Zachary Taylor and great audiences on Wednesday and Thursday nights at St. Xavier Auditorium and the First Christian church. With him on the stage at St. Xavier were Rev. Dr. Bishop O'Donnell and many of the local clergy. Father Kelly was warmly introduced by Col. Thomas D. Gilmer who alludes to the chaplain's experience at Camp Taylor. His first words: "There is only one 'ism' for this country, and that is the 100 per cent Americanism" of the American Legion" brought out a tumult of applause. "The armistice," he said, "created a type of a slacker much more insidious in his effect than any slacker of the war. This is the citizen who declares he deserves a rest after buying bonds and helping the country win the war. No one can rest, no one can be idle, while we have a government of the people, for the people, by the people. Our government is the envy of the world, and while it remains so, we will have enemies without and within. It is up to the business people of America to show the example, and everything depends upon whether they try to pass the buck or do their share."

In the last analysis, Father Kelly declared, the future of the nation requires that every person be up and be doing. Give your best at all times, he urged. Father Kelly deplored the fact that conscientious objectors against military service were given honorable discharges, back pay and railroad mileage and allowed to go home. "The one trouble with America," he said, "is that she has been too promiscuous in opening wide her arms and welcoming all comers without suspicion, though many of these came with false doctrines and ethics and anti-Government and seditious ideas inimical to the interests of the American people. America can never stand for and never know these doctrines. These radicals already are passing among the middle classes of America. They are sowing sedition in that wonderful labor party of America. But I feel there are enough sound, sensible heads in the American Federation of Labor to save it from bolshevism, anarchism, and 'ism' put American. But even so it is up to you business men, for if you are content to sit you are not fit men to enjoy the privileges for which our fighting men sacrificed all."

The Boy Scouts of America, he declared, represent the organization which can make the boy of today the strong, sane, 100 per cent American citizen of tomorrow. If the men of today do not assure the Americanism of the future, he said, they are betraying a trust given by the forefathers of the nation. "Put your all behind America and American principles," was his closing gladness.

At the Kiwanis Club every utterance of Father Kelly was loudly applauded. He was introduced by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Welch, pastor of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian church and a member of the club. When Father Kelly had finished, James E. Pearson, President of the club, made a brief talk in which he thanked the speaker for the message brought to the club and urged members of the organization to put into practice the suggestions that had been made.

Father Kelly spoke to students of the Boys' High School at chapel exercises Wednesday morning. He emphasized the need for 100 per cent Americanism among the youth of the country and said he wished every boy in America could have a course in military training such as is offered the boys of the local High School. Students of the school many of whom were in uniform, gave the speaker a noisy welcome after he was introduced by Prof. J. B. Carpenter, principal of the school.

At the Xavier College Father Kelly was given a Kentucky greeting by Rev. Brother Benjamin and the 500 students of that school who made the building ring with their applause. After his address at the First Christian Church Thursday night, where he was greeted by a splendid audience, Father Kelly was the guest at a reception in his honor at the Elks' Home.

FIFTY HAPPY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. August Blotz, who are among the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of New Albany, had the rare happiness on Monday of celebrating their golden wedding anniversary surrounded by their children and a legion of friends and well-wishers.

They were married April 26, 1870, in New Albany, and have resided there during all of the fifty years of their married life. A bountiful anniversary dinner for the immediate family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blotz, 2403 West Broadway, was followed by a reception for the hundreds of friends of the couple, who were showered with congratulations and also messages from those far away. Mr. and Mrs. Blotz are the parents of Ray Blotz, former member of the Board of Park Commissioners; Dr. A. R. Blotz, physician; and Mrs. J. Blotz, attorney, all of Louisville, and E. A. Blotz, Memphis, Tenn. The latter was unable to be here for the celebration. Mr. Blotz was born in New York January 1, 1842, while Mrs. Josephine M. Blotz was born in New Albany seventy-one years ago, having lived there all her life.

FATHER HOWLETT'S ESCAPE.

The Rev. Father William Howlett, the beloved chaplain at Loretto, had a miraculous escape from sudden and terrible death last Saturday morning for which the community has been offering prayers of thanksgiving. Father Howlett had taken three Lorette Sisters to school and was returning to the Academy when the accident occurred. While crossing the railroad track his automobile was struck by the engine of a freight train, the approach of which was obscured by ears on the side tracks. The automobile was smashed to bits, but Father Howlett was thrown upon the cowcatcher to which he clung while the engine was carried nearly a mile before being stopped. Father Howlett got off with only a scratch on his arm, and the car was not fatally hurt, looked upon as a miracle. A bullet was found in the bed of the auto, and to this in great measure is attributed the saving of his life. Father Howlett, who is past three score and ten, was stationed for many years in Colorado before coming to Verdunck, and the news of his escape will be received with feelings of great gladness.

As for the delegates to be chosen at San Francisco the Kentucky Irish American believes that the convention will strike a popular chord by choosing Col. P. H. Callahan as one of the delegates. Democratic in Louisville and throughout the State now realize that Col. Callahan in the past few months has done a wonderful work in harmonizing and regenerating the party, contributing time, money and energy freely. The writer does not know who Col. Callahan would support as his Presidential choice, but regardless of that preference the honor of being a delegate is due him as reward of merit and recognition from Kentucky Democracy. Peter Lee Atherton, ex-Attorney-General James Garnett, Judge Alex Humphrey and Major Scott Duffett have also been mentioned for delegate, the latter also being mentioned as Temporary Chairman of the convention.

Now we come to the Republican situation, and the struggles of the Courier-Journal, Times and the other Republican paper, the Herald, to fight Tobe Hert's battles are amusing. Republican Boss Hert picked Gov. Lowden as his choice some time ago, and judging from the present situation Tobe picked a lemon. The Courier-Journal, Times and Herald are working overtime trying to create strength for Lowden but the corpse refuses to come to life. Here is the meat in the coconut: Gen. Wood's manager is ex-Postmaster General Hitchcock, and if Wood receives the nomination it will be curtains for the G. O. P. Chairman, Will Hays, as Hitchcock will shew himself as a party leader. With Hays eliminated, Tobe Hert and his machine will be turned adrift and Kentucky control passed over to Marshall Bullitt. That's why Hert's two personal organs, the Courier-Journal and Times, have been denouncing Gen. Wood the past few days and trying to resurrect Lowden. Incidentally the colored Republicans have kicked over the traces because the negro Republicans from one end of the country to the other are denouncing Lowden because he, they say, allowed negroes to be massacred in the East St. Louis riots. Warley, the editor of the local colored newspaper, is making a tour of the surrounding States denouncing Lowden's candidacy. Surprising to say, Hert and Searey haven't posed to be paying that salary while the lecture tour is on.

Speaking of the negro Republicans they have accepted the issue as to whether this is a white man's town or State and to bad their colored brothers into aggressiveness against the white man. There is a series of advertisements now being published in the negro press, presumably by the Republican Campaign Committee. The negroes are told to remember that Overton Harris, of the Democratic Committee, said this is a white man's town and a white man's State, and they are also told to remember that Marion Taylor said that Kentucky should not be ruled by a black and tan oligarchy. The negroes have accepted the challenge and their aggressiveness in Republican ranks and city and State affairs is apparent to all. Daily and nightly we have robberies and criminal assaults by negroes who express their utter contempt for the Keystone Police Department. One of our negro newspapers recently printed the statement that the present police department was acceptable to negroes and cited the fact that this was proven because no negro had to kill any of his present force.

Day by day Chief Petty has been gradually dropping into the background, as his Keystone police is being shown up, but every now and then the Colonel revives enough to try and award off the manifold criticism. But after the deluge of crime Saturday night, headed by the $43,000 robbery, the Colonel went off half cocked in his statements to the press. Our Keystone leader intimated that the white woman shot at by the negro didn't possess a good character, inferring that if you haven't got a spotless reputation the colored Republicans are allowed to take pot shots at you. Come again, Colonel. We would hardly blame the chief for being slightly rattled after Saturday night's robbery carnival when the enterprisers residing in our midst robbed Elsie Jenkins of $40,000 worth of jewels; the Quaker gold store auditor being relieved of $3,000; thirteen-year-old white girl being attacked by a negro, and a few other crimes giving the criminal a running average of $400,000 for our Keystone police out of the whole list never even secured a clue. Why there wasn't snow on the ground. It is said that the Keystoners have despaired of catching any of the great army of "slackers" now in our midst and they spend their time in the station houses having some "goldnered" fine checker games.

But there is one branch of the Keystone cops that is on the job and that is the press or censor bureau. Of Saturday night's big carnival there was not a line given out for publication until newspaper men had dug up the stories themselves. Another tribute to the bureau is the story of the efficiency test at the Liberty Insurance Bank. Now Mayor Smith, Chief Petty, Officer De Forrester, Messrs. Burlingame, Seileman, and Johnson, of the Board of Safety and Business Director (new title) James Carroll with a moving picture machine to register their smiles and poses stationed themselves in front of the bank to see how quick the examiners and conductors would come in response to a burglar alarm just installed by the Liberty Insurance Bank. The press and censor bureau kept from the public that the Keystomers jumped up from their checker games and went likeky-split to the wrong bank, the Lincoln Bank, at Fourth and Market, two squares away.

There was one arrest recently that the Keystone cops pride themselves on. A man at Nineteenth and Market, having jugged too many doctor's prescriptions, stationed himself on the corner and loudly proclaimed that he was a Keystoner. Justly indignant, our comedy cops rushed to the scene and dragged the culprit into jail, charging him with impersonating an officer, which will agree with the proper charge and is official recognition of the popular title. All of the comedy is not confined to the Keystomers however. Near Mayor Smith's Board of Works have a mouser street fusher which goes snarling through our streets every night and with a mighty charge throws all of the dirt of the streets up on the pavement and into our doors. In the morning the people sweep it back in the streets. At night the fusher throws it up again. The people return the compliment in the a.m. At present time the score is 11 to 1.

MAY DEVOTIONS.

May devotions at the Church of Our Lady, 3511 Rudd avenue, will open tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be a procession of the parish sodalities and children of the school and a sermon on the solemnity of the occasion. The services will close with benediction.

CONFIRMS CHILDREN.

Last Sunday morning at St. Boniface church a large class of children, prepared for the happy event by Rev. Linus Braun and the Franciscan Fathers, received their first holy communion. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue administered the sacrament of confirmation to twenty-one boys and twenty-six girls.

K. OF C.

Version of Disputes With War Department and Other Welfare Agencies.

Attempts Made to Prevent Giving Away Creature Comforts to the A. E. F.

Will Carry on Their Free Educational Work For Former Fighters.

DISPOSES OF POLITICAL BOGEY.

Revelations of acute differences and heated debatings on the subject of welfare work during the war and after the signing of the armistice are contained in the official history of the K. of C. by Maurice Francis Egan and John B. Kennedy, just published by the organization at its headquarters in New Haven. The book is in two volumes and is called Knights of Columbus in Peace and War. Under the chapter heading, "Hewing to the Line," the Knights give their official version of their various disputes with the War Department and other welfare agencies. While the public staunchly supported the various war drives, approving the apparent harmony of operation, vigorous differences of opinion as to the spending of the collected money were indulged in. Frequent attempts were made to prohibit the Knights from giving away the creature comforts given to the men of the A. E. F. and at one time the Knights were vaguely ordered to stop these gifts or quit France. They replied that if the order was made a written order under the signature of the Commanding General they would obey it and retire from the A. E. F. The written order was never given. There were disputes as to how the organization should be grouped with the Knights insisting that all go out for money together or not and there were even disputes as to who should manage minor athletic events. But at this stage of the work according to the K. of C. book, the Knights declined to argue and went ahead with whatever programme they had arranged. The book however, charges that official interferences obstructed much good work.

The Knights, according to their official history, operated their relief work throughout with a view to avoiding a second general drive for funds. This they succeeded in doing, despite their policy of giving everything away. They steadfastly declined to spend any of the funds entrusted to them on matters beyond the scope of their plea to the public, even though urgent appeals were made to them in Europe. They ended the war with $11,000,000 in hand, and after apportioning sufficient money to sustain the 502 scholarships they have awarded ex-service men, they have $7,000,000 to carry on their free educational work for former fighters.

The book shows that from an organization of eleven men in 1882, when the order originated in New Haven, the Knights now number 675,000. The Knights had raised and expended more than $2,500,000 on various forms of educational and relief work before the war. The book also shows that in the beginning the Knights were regarded with suspicion and even opposed by fellow-Catholics, but that they overcame all difficulties through their works of benevolence. Among other things the K. of C. history dispenses of the "hogey of a Catholic political combination, demonstrating that Catholics do not act as a unit in political matters. An interesting war fact is that the K. of C. adopted the American suggestion of the English Salvation Army, achieved the world's record for doughnut-baking by making more than 5,000,000 doughnuts for the Army of Oc-tupation in a space of ten weeks at the K. C. bakery at Coblenz.

From some 500,000 barrack bags belonging to former members of the A. E. F. the salvage officers at Governor's Island have taken suits of overalls which formerly did duty and other menial duty in France.

Hundreds of men were disappointed when they learned Uncle Sam had ruled all the overalls belonged to him some weeks ago, and since then had been auctioned off at sixteen cents a suit.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA.

At the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Daughters of Isabella, at Knights of Columbus hall, quite a number of very interesting topics were discussed and acted upon. The organization is looking forward to and anticipating much pleasure from the production of the little playlet "Oh! Oh! Cyndy!" some time during the latter part of May. Players are to be selected from the members, some of whom have most excellent voices. The next regular meeting will be held tomorrow at K. of C. hall. This will be a business-social meeting, at which a prominent speaker will address the assembly. A large attendance is desired.

COOLIDGE SAYS BULWARK.

Gov. Calvin C. Coolidge, of Massachusetts, said in a public statement to the newspapermen at the Massachusetts State Council of the Knights of Columbus: "The Knights of Columbus by their welfare services have endeared themselves to the hearts of the American public. They are part of the backbone of the nation—a bulwark for law and order. I think their educational work is a most useful activity for the benefit of our war veterans—for whom the nation can not do too much." Supreme Director William P. Larkin of New York, who received the Governor's statement, added that in the last six months 10,000 ex-service men of Massachusetts had joined the K. of C.

And say not that this is only the opinion of those who are caught in the narrow nets of lazy conservatism and who do not aspire to the light and glory of the new age of freedom. No, the greatest minds of all ages have found in Proverbs the perfect image of the noble woman, whose presence in the household spells peace and gladness, and whose absence means gloom and sorrow. Fray Luis de Leon, an illustrious Catholic poet of Spain, who died in 1891, is celebrated in the history of Spanish literature as the author of a work entitled "La Perfecta Casada." "The Perfect Married Woman." Concerning this work a historian of Spanish literature writes: "With the exception of his poetical works, the book by which he (Luis de Leon) is best known is his "Perfecta Casada" (Perfect Wife), in which, taking for his text the thirty-first chapter of the Book of Proverbs, he sketches in grave and forcible language his somewhat severe but admirably pure conception of the strong woman. So true is his picture, and so accurately did he picture the feelings of his countrymen in this respect, that a Spanish anthorose of equal talent (Emilia Pardo Bazan) has lately expressed an opinion that his book still represents the national ideal of the Perfect Wife." The judgment of this great Spanish writer as to the excellence of the ideal of the "perfect woman" in the work of Fray Luis de Leon holds good today. For even the woman of our time can find no better example of the virtues that should adorn her sex than those enumerated in "Proverbs," and that have been practised in so eminent a degree by thousands of women who drew their strength and grace and inspiration from the teachings and spiritual armory of the Catholic church.

SITE FOR HOME.

Subject to the approval of the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue, a committee has been named to select a site for the new Visitation Home, several of which are being considered. Frank C. Geber, chairman of the home fund committee, reports that the total is now over $112,000, with additional subscriptions still being received.

Catholic Ideal of Womanhood the Noblest and Best Suited For All Time.

Wife and Mother Who Measures Up to All Requirements of the Position.

Leaves an Example of Loyalty to Duty, Virtue and Well Doing.

THE TRUE TYPE FOR TODAY

The thirty-first chapter of the Book of Proverbs sings in language of splendid power and charm the praises of the wise and valiant woman. No work of classic antiquity can rival this portrait of the saintly woman—or the wife and mother who measures up to all the requirements of her position. No later writer has improved upon the picture, or found it lacking in essential detail, or presented the work with a better and nobler ideal of womanhood. The church uses portions of this eloquent tribute to the "true woman" in her liturgy for the commemoration of women saints who attained to the stature of heroic holiness, though they possess neither the glory of martyrdom nor the crown of virginity. The church has therefore set the stamp of approval upon that matchless poem of the singer of ancient Israel.

In these days of "emancipation" and of "woman's rights," of "feminism" and of "new freedom," other ideals of the truly great and noble woman have been placed before the sex. These ideals spring from an entirely different concept of woman's sphere and duty than those that guided the inspired writer of the Book of Proverbs. Whereas the poet of the Old Law speaks of industry and devotion to household duty, and says that "the woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised," the later prophets of a new order, like Ibsen and Suderman, and Ellen Key and Eliot Glyn, praise the woman who follows her own caprice and knows no other duty but that of "developing her individuality." This last phase is the key to Suderman's "Magda," a character that some (emanipated) spirits proclaim as the true type for the woman of today. Fortunately common sense tells us where to look for the ideals of womanhood and where we can find their realization. The Catholic church points to the illustrious wives and mothers who were "not learned," who guided their children in the path of virtue, who spoke no evil and sought not the high and proud stations in society. But they were bold on doing God's work in the home, and for husband, and children and dependents. And so doing they led noble lives and achieved distinction. They wrought in the spirit of the valiant woman of Proverbs,

MARY'S MONTH.

May is the month of Mary, the mother of our Divine Savior. The Blessed Virgin is nearest of all creatures to Christ in his humanity, because He took his humanity from her, and thus she has a fullness of grace beyond that of any other creature. Hence incidentally her influence with her Son. Her perfection of grace is threefold: the perfection of sanctification to dispose her for the divine maternity; secondly, the perfection arising from the divine presence within her; thirdly, the perfection of grace she now has in glory. During the month there will be special devotions in all Catholic churches, when all should be eager to honor the mother of God, who will intercede for us before her Divine Son.

THE A. P. A. REVIVAL.

Now that the dangers of war are over the bigots are up to their old tricks. A. P. A. lodges, to be known as the "Sons and Daughters of Washington," are being organized in the Eastern States. The organizers admit that the principal object is to keep Roman Catholics out of public office, as they claim Catholics are dangerous to the Government. But they do not explain why these enemies of the country came forward in such large numbers in all branches of the service during the recent war, nor do they mention the deeds of the Knights of Columbus or our priest chaplains. Wouldn't it be interesting on the other hand to have a little sketch of the war activities of Forrest, the organizer, and his dark lantern bigot associates when our country needed men?

THE PUBLIC TURNS.

It is pleasing to note that the public at large is disgusted with the matrimonial episodes of Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and others of the film favorites, press and public throughout the country souring fast on the professional divorcees. It is pleasing to note that none of the local movie houses have featured any of the above since the recent divorce scandal in which Fairbanks, Pickford and Chaplin featured.

HYPOCRITICAL ENGLAND.

England's new Ambassador to this country serves notice that the Irish, Irish-American and people in this country must quit nosing into or discussing England's affairs in Ireland. Ambassador Geddes forgets that his own hypocritical nation has never followed this course, as her criminal history in India, South Africa, China and other places shows. If John Bull had kept out of other peoples' affairs it would have been a happier world today, as the above countries could testify.

UTTERLY DISHONEST.

While strikes are to be deplored and some are not fully justified, the tendency on the part of the capitalist press to brand as Bolsheviks or I. W. W. or plain Anarchists those workmen who try to better their economic outlook by means of the strike, seems to be growing. Now this is utterly dishonest, and it is not wise. Men who are conscious of no crime will resent being put in the criminal class, but more will they resent the interference of the police power of the State or nation to penalize their efforts to improve their condition. This does not make for respect of the law, and if any large class of the community has reason to believe that it is being discriminated against and not getting a square deal in accordance with the letter and spirit of the constitution the result will be tumult and a class war that may be fatal to the nation. In these days of industrial unrest it is not a wise policy to push those on whom the economic burdens weigh most heavily to the wall—at least they should be allowed to retain their self-respect.

FRIEND OF ENGLAND.

President Wilson has proven himself to be the best friend England ever has had—this is the opinion of every unbiased student of recent history. The "fourteen points" were thrown over to please England, and the plunder of weaker nations and peoples approved, and our army in the light of the outcome of the war which it won gives the aspect of auxiliaries engaged in pushing British imperial boundaries far afield.

Louisville and Kentucky, which give it a wide field of usefulness. The new Journal has our best wishes.

SOCIETY.

Sergeant L. Sherley Quaife has been at Lexington this week taking in the races.

Ben W. Martin spent the first part of the week in Cincinnati.

Miss Marguerite Ryau, of Louisville, has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. Guy Vinson, at Highland Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John Egan, of Portland, have been spending the week visiting relatives in Indianapolis.

Miss Kittle Stanton spent the week-end with Mrs. Thomas Bennett at Pewee Valley.

Miss Mary Timony, of Danville, has been spending the week with Miss Durrett Oglesby, at Preston.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hannon, of Courtland, have sold their home and moved to the Highlands.

Mrs. Frank O'Connor, who has been spending some time in Indianapolis, has returned home.

Miss Charlotte Bryne, of Indianapolis, has been spending the week-end with Mrs. W. A. Taylor, of Berkley Court.

THIS RINGS TRUE.

If you feel secure in the possession of your property, you owe that sense of security to our Government.

If your home is protected from danger through the night, the Government provides the protection.

If you enjoy life without fear of thugs and murderers, it is because the Government's guardians are on duty.

If your sister, your mother, your wife, unescorted, can walk the streets without being injured or insulted, it is because of our Government.

And yet, as the Catholic Telegraph points out, there is a faction of our population which is intent upon the overthrow of this Government of ours. There is another faction, which occasionally tries to intimidate our governmental officials, and to coerce them into granting special exemptions or privileges detrimental to the interests of our citizenry at large.

Your duty, our duty, the duty of all good, patriotic citizens is plain: We should stand loyally and determinedly behind the Government. Let us give it our earnest, unflagging support. Thus only can we defend our altars and our fires. Thus only can we assure the protection of those near and dear to us. Thus only can we avoid the tyranny and the horrors of the Bolsheviks, that is making a hell out of Russia.

GEDDES UP TO TRICKS.

Those who are not up to the tricks of British diplomats will, on the auspices of the Entertainment Committee of the Visitation Home next Tuesday afternoon and evening, and friends of the Home are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bahr announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elsie Mario Bahr, to Louis J. Connolly, of Minneapolis, Minn. The wedding will take place in February 26.

Miss Grace O'Connor and Wallace Graven, who were married at St. James' church, are on their wedding trip. On returning they will live in Ivanhoe Court.

Miss Sarah A. Hourigan, Mary and Margaret Ross and Catherine McCarthy returned the first of the week after an enjoyable trip to Mammoth Cave.

A card party will be given under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee of the Visitation Home next Tuesday afternoon and evening, and friends of the Home are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bahr announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elsie Mario Bahr, to Louis J. Connolly, of Minneapolis, Minn. The wedding will take place in January 26.

The marriage of Miss Anna May Sandman and George F. Hoffman took place at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. James' church, the Rev. Father Earl Willett officiating. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sandman.

George F. Ruf, pressman for the Louisville Times, and Miss Elizabeth Marshall, a popular young lady of Covington, were married last Saturday at St. Louis Bertrand church, the Very Rev. Father Heenan, O. P., performing the ceremony. After their wedding trip to Cincinnati and the North they will be at home at 552 South Shelby street.

Louisville was largely represented in New York City the past week, among the many visitors being Mr. and Mrs. Kerney McCaugh, Mr. and Mrs. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. ## NEW HOPE.

Tuesday morning with a nuptial mass at St. Vincent de Paul's church at New Hope the marriage of George B. Hagan, of New Haven, and Miss Mary M. Bowling was solemnized in the presence of many of their friends and relatives, the Rev. Alphonse O'Shea performing the ceremony. The bride is one of New Hope's fairest daughters, and the lucky groom is the son of Mrs. Anne Bowler, a woman and a popular resident of New Haven.

Attired in a traveling suit of dark blue and carrying a corsage bouquet of pink rose buds, the bride presented a lovely appearance. Miss Bowling was very prominent socially and was a Prefect of the Blessed Virgin Sodality of St. Vincent de Paul's church, Sister Cordella, a sister, is stationed in St. Louis. The groom, who is a nephew of John J. Barry, of the New Haven Echo, is an overseas veteran of the World war and is now chief operator for the L. & N. in New Haven. The usher was Messrs. Webb and Richard Bowling, brothers of the bride, and Miss Besse McGee, a cousin, of Louisville, presided at the organ. Immediately after the ceremony the worthy couple left on an extended wedding trip to Louisville and through the East, and upon their return will be at home to their many friends at New Haven, where they will reside.

RECENT DEATHS.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bridget McDermott, twenty-seven years old, beloved wife of John McDermott, 447 North Twenty-eighth street, were held Wednesday morning from St. Cecilia's church. Deceased was held in high esteem by many friends and acquaintances. Besides the husband she leaves an infant child and her mother, Mrs. Ann Welsh.

Sunday morning death's hand was laid upon John Soeder at his home, 1019 Lampton street. For years he had been active as a Catholic Knight of Ameveen and in fraternal circles and an earnest worker in Holy Trinity parish. His funeral took place Wednesday morning with requiem high mass, attended by many of his fellow workmen and associates, who will miss him from their ranks.

Mrs. Alice Noonan, widow of Thomas Noonan, died Wednesday at her home, 622 North Twenty-third street. She was a charter member of St. Cecilia's church and was fully prepared for the final summons. She is survived by three sons, William, Thomas and James Noonan, and a daughter, Miss Ellen Noonan. Funeral services with requiem mass were held Friday morning.

Mrs. Margaret Rechert, widow of the late Gen. Michael Rechert and widely known in German Catholic circles, passed away Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Lattis, 2723 South Third street, death resulting from old age. Besides Mrs. Lattis, he leaves another daughter, Mrs. T. Crane. The funeral took place Monday morning from Holy Name church, Rev. John O'Connor celebrating the requiem high mass.

John E. Mittel, fifty-seven years old, died Saturday evening at his home, 821 South Fifteenth street, following an illness of several weeks. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Mittel, three daughters, Mrs. A. H. Norton, Mrs. Frank Schank and Miss Eleanor Mittel, and four sons, J. H. J. E. F. and Carl Mittel. Funeral services were held Monday morning with requiem high mass at St. Peter's church.

A. R. Morris & Co., underwriters of the O. K. Giant Battery Company of Gary, Ind., have opened an office at 124 South Fourth street, and are showing for the first time the O. K. Giant battery, a dry rechargeable battery that will revolutionize the battery business. Harry W. Rollins, electrical engineer for the Apperson Brothers Automobile Company, made an exhaustive test of this dry storage battery, with the most satisfactory results. He continued the tests in every form possible, each with the same gratifying result. In submitting a detailed report, Engineer Rollins says: "I have conducted tests on a great many batteries, but I consider this an exceptional record." Among the special features of the battery are first, being a dry battery, it does not have to be filled with distilled water; second, it will not freeze; third, will not corrode or submerge the plates; fourth, it can not be overcharged or short circuited; fifth, fires a more intense spark and so will give three to five more miles per gallon of gas.

BOWLING GREEN.

Miss Mary Pauline Hazel, of Bowling Green, and Charles A. Lee, Jr., of Plainfield, Ind., were wedded on Friday of last week at the rectory of St. Joseph's church, Bowling Green. Rev. T. J. Hayes, the pastor, performing the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of William Hazel, of Louisville.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Miss Sallie Roberta Thompson, who has been critically ill for three months and is now convalescing at her home at Prestonia, was given a most delightful surprise last week, when she was paid a special visit by her classmates, Misses Catherine O'Brien, Mary Wilder, Margaret Sheely, Mary Catharine Ross and Virginia Blanton.

MAKE ALL LAUGH.

The Associated Press correspondent at Belfast, Ireland, cables that a special force of detectives boarded the Anchor Line Steamer Columbia on her arrival at Merville on Tuesday, and minutely inspected the passengers and their passports. It is reported they were searching for Prof. Eamon de Valera, President of the Irish Republic, whom

Is Destiny Shaping His Course for the White House?

THE career of James M. Cox, typifying, as it does, the opportunity that America holds out to men of merit and courage, suggests that the finger of DESTINY has touched him.

His course is the course that the American Genius, in which every crisis produces a stalwart leader, always has marked out for those recorded her favor.

His career shows her immediate.

Born and reared on a farm, then a newsboy, then a printer's devil, then a reporter, then an editor, then a publisher, then Congressman, then Governor—what is the next logical step?

Doesn't it seem that the path DESTINY has marked out for him leads to the open door of the White House?

GOVERNOR JAMES M. COX.

A Courageous Administrator Needed Now.

HIS record shows that he is peculiarly fitted for the service required under present abnormal conditions.

Elected Governor of Ohio in 1912, he made the old order of things and made Government responsive and efficient, as well as orderly and efficient.

When the Steel Strike was disturbing the nation, he maintained peace and order, upheld the right of free speech and prevented property damage, and this without the use of a single soldier.

Directly through his efforts, capital and labor were brought together in common understanding and he held after a trying situation the confidence and respect of both employer and employee.

Successful in business, with an abiding appreciation of the problems of farm life.

DESTINY'S candidate will draw strength from all elements.

He sponsored modern laws, providing from more business-like administration of government, for better working conditions for men, women and children, for wider social service, for increased educational facilities, for improved roads and for greater aid to farmers.

He Has Squarely Met Every Trial.

IN his first term he faced unusual conditions caused by a disastrous flood.

In his second term he was confronted with the great problem of a World War brought.

In his third term he has been called on to solve the big question of Reconstruction.

And he has met every trial in the way men whom the finger of DESTINY has touched have always met them.

You can picture the kind of man he is when he says:

"The less government we have, consistent with safety to life and property, the better for both happiness and morals."

Are these not the words of a normal, aggressive American, the kind of man who can be depended on to restore our country to normal American ways?

Kentucky Democrats' Opportunity.

KENTUCKY Democrats, your opportunity to get a man who has shown by his record that he is good enough that he can win, the man who, seemingly, DESTINY has picked for your candidate, will come at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon.

Attend the mass conventions in your county seats at that time and use the meeting of delegates of character and standing who will see that Kentucky's votes in the National Convention are cast for James M. Cox.

Do this—your crowd of these game birds will be music in your ears Wednesday morning, November 3.

CITATION AWARDED

The Rev. G. C. Van Goethem, of Nogales, Ariz., who served for more than two years on the Mexican border with the troops as a Knights of Columbus chaplain and later in France, has been cited by George C. Rickard, commander of the 112th Pennsylvania Infantry, of the twenty-eighth division. Col. Rickard apparently has been under the impression that his citation had long ago been delivered to the priest because he had it written almost one year ago. Recently Father Van Goethem, who was a real "buddie" with the men of the Keystone division, which went through some of the hardest fighting at the Argonne and Meuse offensive and then towards Sedan, is praised in the following communication accompanying the citation:

"Your untiring energies on the battlefield, in the billet or wherever duty called you, whether with the dead, the wounded, the sick or well, irrespective of whether he was a Jew, Catholic or Gentile, or just an ordinary Methodist like myself, was splendid. So far as I could see your work in the interest of humanity, doing what was possible for you to do, both spiritually and physically, and by these traits and your disregard for personal safety or comfort not only won my heart, but the affection of every officer and man who came in contact with you in the performance of your duties."

"RICKARD, Colonel,"

"112th Inf. 28 Div."

HEBREWS INVITE PRIEST.

For the first time in the history of the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati, the foremost seminary of Judaism in the United States, an invitation was extended to a Catholic priest to address the members of the senior class on a Catholic topic. This unique invitation was extended to the Rev. Joseph Reiner, S. J., rector of the School of Commerce and Sociology of St. Xavier College, Cincinnati. On the suggestion of the authorities of the Hebrew Union College, Father Reiner will speak to the young men who will be ordained rabbis in June on Pope Leo's Encyclical, "On the Condition of Labor" and the bishops' programme of social reconstruction.

HERE IN JUNE.

Archbishop Mannix, the great Australian prelate, will sail for San Francisco on May 19. The Archbishop is on his way to Rome. The esteem in which he is held was recently demonstrated when his friends offered him a purse of $250,000. Dr. Mannix declined the testimonial, adding that he had made it a rule of life never to accept monetary presentation. "When my time comes," said Dr. Mannix, "I hope not to have a penny." The position of Dr. Mannix on conscription, labor and the Irish question has made him the most beloved man in Australia.

WELFARE COUNCIL.

Next Wednesday delegates from more than thirty great Catholic societies will meet in Chicago, called by Bishop Schrembs, of Toledo, who is Chairman of the Department of Lay Organizations of the National Catholic Welfare Council. Louisville will be represented by Col. P. H. Callahan and Attorney Robert T. Burke. Indications are that the conference will be entered into with great enthusiasm by Catholic laymen of America.

ORPHAN PICNIC.

The annual picnic for the benefit of the St. Vincent and St. Thomas Orphan Homes will be given on Monday, July 5, as the Fourth this year falls on a Sunday. The Catholic Orphan Society invites all the parishes, whether they have a branch society or not, to help make the affair a bigger success this year than ever before. Owing to the H. C. L. and the fact that the Society is taking care of more children than ever, more money is needed. George H. Naher, the President, has called the first meeting for Monday night at 8 o'clock at the K. of C. Home, Fourth and York, and hopes to have a large attendance at this preliminary meeting so that the committee may be quickly formed. Everybody is invited. Don't think you are not needed, as you may be the link necessary to complete the chain.

CHILDREN ARE STARVING.

Through the good will of Rev. Father Linus Braun, Prof. Molenkraft and the entire St. Boniface choir they will again repeat the pleasing opera "The Last of Limerick Town" at Turner Hall, Floyd and Broadway, Sunday night, for the benefit of the hungry and starving children of Austria and Germany. The general admission will be seventy-five cents. Already 50,000 children have been sent to Italy from Vienna alone through the good influence of Pope Benedict and several thousand children have been sent from Vienna to each of the Scandinavian countries, Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

QUEEN'S DAUGHTERS.

Next week there will be three gatherings of interest to members of the Queen's Daughters. Tuesday there will be a meeting of the Board of Directors, and on Wednesday the retiring Board of Directors will give an informal reception and tea to all the members and their friends at the home of Mrs. J. C. Murphy, 1205 Willow avenue, from 5 to 6 o'clock. The regular monthly meeting takes place Friday afternoon at Knights of Columbus Hall, when Major John Dixon, President of the Human Society, will deliver the principal address.

FEAST OF ST. PAUL.

The feast of St. Paul of the Cross was observed by the Passionist fathers of the Sacred Heart Retreat with solemn and impressive ceremony Wednesday morning at the monastery on the Newburg road. Solemn high mass was sung at 9 o'clock, when Rev. George Schummann, D. D., of St. John's church, preached a powerful and eloquent sermon. Devotions and benediction took place in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, many making this the occasion for gaining the Plenaria indulgence.

COVINGTON.

A very largely attended and successful mission has been in progress this week at St. Ann's church, Covington. It was conducted by Rev. J. L. Finerty, O. P., of the St. Louis Bertrand missionary band, and will close with special services tomorrow evening.

LARGE WAR FORCE.

The total number of our men serving in the World War was 4,090,735. The American army took part in twelve major engagements.

Let Electricity Do Your Washing

It is a real economy—it saves money, time and work.

The 1900 Electric Washing Machine is simple to operate. You turn on the switch and the electric power gently, but rapidly, works the suds thoroughly through every fiber of the clothing.

No need to employ a laundress—the machine does all the hard work. It does the washing with surprising speed while you devote your time to other things.

This week at our office there is a display of household work-savers conducted by the Gas & Electric Shop.

CONDITION IMPROVING.

Gen. William B. Haldeman, who underwent a delicate surgical operation at St. Joseph's Infirmary on Tuesday, withstood the shock well, and his condition is reported favorable and steadily improving, news that will be welcomed by his world of friends. The operation was performed by Drs. Irvin W. Abel and Llewellyn Spears. All of Gen. Haldeman's family were at the infirmary where he was taken. The patient has been in ill health for several months. Upon his return recently from Florida, where he had spent the winter, Gen. Haldeman signed as Democratic National Committeeman from Kentucky, physician having forbidden his attempting to make the trip to the National Democratic Convention.

A recent copy of the Bulletin, the official organ of the "Sons," which is published occasionally, bears on its cover a picture of President Wilson, evidently in the act of signing a bill, with Presidential Secretary Tumulty standing at his elbow and looking on. The picture is labelled: "President Wilson and Patrick Joseph Tumulty."

Tumulty's name is not "Patrick Joseph," but "Joseph Patrick." Oh-

How Loss To Your Estate May Be Avoided.

Very often loss to estates managed by individual executors and trustees occurs through the lack of knowledge and experience rather than through any intentional dishonesty. The individual executor and trustee may have the best intentions, and yet manage the estate improperly, because his training for such duties has been inadequate.

As executor and trustee, this company will give your estate the benefit of the best knowledge and experience to be had in trust matters.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Mackin Social Club announces their first moonlight of the season on the beautiful excursion steamer East St. Louis on the evening of May 18. This is the first of a series of seven moonlights to be given by the Social Club, the following dates having been booked by the council for the coming season: Tuesday, May 18; Tuesday, June 1; Wednesday, June 19; Friday, July 9; Friday, July 23; Tuesday, Aug. 10; Friday, Aug. 27. The Social Club extends a cordial invitation to its many friends to be with them on these evenings, assuring them of an enjoyable time.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE

The Twin City Catholic Baseball League will open its 1920 season at Shawnee Park tomorrow and with fair weather a record breaking crowd is assured. President William M. Duffy and the league officials have arranged for prominent citizens to deliver a short address to the boys on each diamond and pitch the first ball. The teams and their managers are as follows: Knights of Columbus, W. H. Jansing, manager; Ancient Order of Hibernians, Walter Murphy, manager; Mackin Council, George J. Thornton, manager; Xavier Alumni, Ray Haragan, manager; Knights of St. John, Louis J. Coomes, manager; Catholic Men's Association, Jos. Felhoelter, manager. The umpires are Harry Lally, chief; Harvey Duncan and Jos. Holschew. The teams will play us follows: K. of C. vs. A. O. H. on Diamond No. 1; Knights of St. John vs. Mackin on Diamond No. 2 and Catholic Men's Association vs. Xavier Alumni on Diamond No. 4.

AMERICANIZATION

In bulletins issued recently it is stated that for years the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have been engaged in Americanization. Are we to infer that the Y's were the only bodies which had undertaken to Americanize? Of course, one might question how far an organization which admitted Catholics to membership and yet placed a barrier against these men attaining office, may be said to be living up to American ideals? Why is no mention made of the Americanizing influence of the parochial schools? In these schools the children of native and foreign-born parents are taught their duties to God, to themselves, to their country, to their fellowmen and to lower creatures. What better program for Americanization could be proposed? Moreover, even were we to admit, as some maintain, that the essence of Americanization consists in the ability to write and speak English, it is hard to see why parochial schools are not mentioned as Americanizing influences. A study of the results of examinations in which pupils of the parochial and public schools have taken part, soon leads one to believe either that the teaching of English in the parochial schools is superior, or part of the knowledge must have been infused. It is about time this method of advertising private religious organizations to the exclusion of others more deserving of praise should cease.

THE DEAD PRIEST

A shadow slept folded in vestments. The dream of a smile on its face, Dini, soft as the gleam after sunset. That hangs like a halo of grace Where the daylight hath died in the valley,

And the twilight hath taken its place—

A shadow! But still on the mortal There rested the tremulous trace Of the joy of spirit immortal.

Passed up to its God in his grace,

A shadow! Hast seen in the summer A child wear the smile of the sun On the shadow of death there is no glowing.

The light of a holy race runs.

And the smile on the face is resfleeting.

The gleam of the crown he has won.

Still, shadow, sleep on in the vestments.

Instained by the priest who has gone.

COLONELS HERE THURSDAY

Manager Joe McCarthy and his Louisville club will open with Bill

Clyne's Columbus aggregation this afternoon for a series of four games, coming home next Thursday to begin a single series with Indianapolis before going on a tour of the Western cities. Local fans have forgiven the boys for their failures at home because of their showing stand at Indianapolis, as a victory over the Hoosiers did not a sweet morsel for Louisville's baseball gores because of the great river between the two cities in every way. One of the predictions made in these columns before the season opened was that Wartman would hit again this year, and it is being verified, the little shorstop hitting like his old Kansas City days. Our old friend Jay Kirk is going to have keen competition as the leading hitter from Lamar and Massey, both hitting the ball on the nose. Don't forget to come out and help humiliate the Indianapolis team some more in the coming series.

SPLENDID PICTURES.

The motion pictures of the Catholic Art Association, exhibited at St.

Xavier's College, equal and surpass many of the best productions seen here. They are all interesting and instructive and will be appreciated

by right thinking and good people.

The public, and Catholics especially, should feel indebted to Rev. Brother

Benjamin for bringing these art works to Louisville, and they owe it to themselves to show their appreciation by seeing them.

FORTY HOURS.

For the coming week St. Colum-

b'a's church, Thirty-fifth and Market, has been appointed for the Forty Hours' devotions. They will open with solemn high mass and exposition tomorrow morning, concluding on

Tuesday. Rev. Father Katahor

the pastor, will be assisted by pastor from other city churches. These beautiful devotions will also begin tomorrow at the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy on East Broadway.

SISTERS FOR THE ORIENT.

Six Sisters of Providence of St.

Mary-of-the-Woods will soon leave for China to engage in the great missionary work now being undertaken in the vast Oriental republic.

These Sisters from Indiana; the first American Sisters to go into China;

all volunteers. The amount was made by Right Rev.

Bishop Chartrand, whose permission had to be obtained for the departure of the Sisters. The Sisters will sail from San Francisco next

September.

WAGES.

Whatever may be the solution of the high cost of living, one thing is certain: High wages do not solve the problem. There was never a time in the history of the United States when wages were as high as they are at present; and yet the high cost of living continues to go upward. Political economists have been telling the wage earner for years and years that "wages" is a relative term; that it isn't the amount of money he receives for his work that matters so much as the amount of the necessities, comforts, and luxuries of life, which the money will purchase. The wage-earner couldn't or wouldn't be persuaded by the economists: Now he is unwilling to be convinced by the inevitable logic of stubborn facts,
